Benching at General and Group Championship dog shows

This decision has been taken having listened to feedback from exhibitors and due to concerns expressed by show societies about the strain on shows' finances at this present time.

Applications for exemption from benching will now be considered by The Kennel Club for next year's shows. Those show societies which wish to apply for exemption from benching will be required to submit revised show plans and risk assessments. The Kennel Club will be contacting show secretaries direct with further details.

The Show Executive Committee will be regularly monitoring the impact on shows and Field Officers will be assigned to report on those shows for which exemption from benching has been approved.

The Kennel Club can confirm that it will continue to provide benching at Crufts.

International Canine Health Awards 2023

Open for nominations with prize money more than doubled

The world's largest international awards recognising excellence in canine research, health and welfare, are welcoming nominations for the 2023 awards from leading veterinary professionals, scientists, students and researchers.

Organised by The Kennel Club Charitable Trust, and underwritten by a major gift from the Vernon and Shirley Hill Foundation, the International Canine Health Awards are one of the largest veterinary awards in the world. Having inspired scientific innovation in canine health for over a decade, 2023 will see a record-breaking year for the awards, with the prize money more than doubled.

Leaders in the field of canine care and medicine who are passionate about improving the health and welfare of man's best friend now have the opportunity to nominate colleagues, or themselves, for one of five award categories. A winner from each category will be selected by an independent, international panel of eminent judges, renowned for their work in the veterinary and scientific fields. The awards will help to improve the lives of all dogs across the globe.

For 2023, excellence is paramount but the judges will be particularly interested to receive applications where there is a focus on One-Health. The panel will also welcome applications that demonstrate a commitment to advancing canine medicine in developing nations.

All nominations must be submitted before the 31 January 2023 by completing the application forms on The Kennel Club Charitable Trust website.

The five awards now open for entries are as follows:

INTERNATIONAL AWARD IN CANINE HEALTH - for outstanding contributions in the field of canine health and welfare, with a prize of $100,000 towards future projects. The award will be presented to an individual currently involved in world-class innovation, but with more still to contribute.

LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARD - with a $50,000 prize, this award will go to a veterinarian or scientist, who has dedicated much of their career to advancing the health and welfare of dogs. The award will be presented to an individual who has made a significant lifetime impact to benefit canine health and welfare on the world stage.

TWO STUDENT INSPIRATION AWARDS - these comprise Postgraduate and Undergraduate awards, with prize funds of $20,000 and $10,000, respectively, to aid further education costs, the development of their careers, or the creation/continuation of a project. The awards will be presented to extraordinary students studying at a veterinary school who demonstrate the potential to significantly advance the frontiers of veterinary medicine and research to benefit dogs. Postgraduate applicants must be within five years of receiving their first degree.

UK BREED HEALTH CO-ORDINATOR AWARD - with a £5,000 prize fund, judges will be looking for individuals from UK Kennel Club breed clubs or councils who have demonstrated a dedication to supporting health and welfare within their breed over the previous year. Some of the aspects that will be considered include starting or coordinating a new project or resource for the breed, such as a health website or health survey, and good communication with The Kennel Club and other key stakeholders

Dr Andrew Higgins, Chairman of the International Canine Health Awards panel and trustee of The Kennel Club Charitable Trust which runs the awards, said: "The prestigious International Canine Health awards have been fostering and supporting development in the canine research and veterinary field for over ten years now, and offers some of the largest veterinary prizes in the world. The wonderful support of the Vernon and Shirley Hill Foundation continues to make a monumental difference in encouraging scientific knowledge and actively promoting canine health.

"Every year we get an incredible range of nominations from veterinarians and scientists who explore diverse aspects of dog health and welfare. We are looking for applications from across the world and the judges will be looking for scientific excellence and a proven commitment to improving dog health and welfare."

Vernon Hill, founder of the Vernon and Shirley Hill Foundation, whose major gift underwrites the awards, said: "Our foundation is pleased to announce the doubling of financial support for these distinguished international awards in 2023, so continuing to improve the lives of our canine companions across the globe. This year we are delighted that the awards wish to highlight how investment in canine health research can also often benefit human health. After all, dogs help humans so much both in terms of our physical and mental wellbeing.

"We are always proud to hear of the impact the prize funds have in helping support and celebrate the inspiring and talented people who are committing their lives to make sure every dog lives their best life."

Further information and nomination forms for the 2023 awards can be found by visiting kennelclubcharitabletrust.org/dog-health/icha. All nomination forms must be completed and submitted by 31 January 2023.

Cost of Living Campaign

Throughout December The Kennel Club Charitable Trust ran its Christmas Campaign, aiming to raise funds for dogs and their owners in vulnerable situations, whether that be facing homelessness or struggling to feed their dog and being faced with the horror of having to surrender them to rescue.

Research commissioned by the Trust showed that 37% of those interviewed would go without food themselves in order to feed their dog and 31% would incur higher heating bills to keep their dog warm. Sadly, 1 in 10 have already had to give up their dog, as they felt it was just not fair on the animal.

The Trust's campaign was supported by comedian and actor, Bill Bailey, owner of several animals including currently, three dogs, all from rescues, who says: "I think being around animals is goof for the soul and that caring for a dog can actually make you a better person." Bill urged the public to get behind the campaign, asking dog lovers to consider giving £10, which could feed a small dog for two weeks. You can still give to the campaign, which will run until early January, by donating through www.kennelclubcharitabletrust.org/christmas

All monies will be distributed to pet food banks, dog rescues and other charities supporting dogs and their owners through a challenging winter.

Call for an end to electric shock collars in England

On Monday 28 November, The Kennel Club co-hosted an event, alongside Dogs Trust and attended by both MPs and many other animal welfare and veterinary charities to call on the Government to ban the use of Electric Shock Collars (ESC) in England as has been promised since 2018.

Evidence presented to governments across the UK has led to collars administering electric shocks being banned in Wales and condemned in Scottish guidance. In 2018, the Westminster Government committed to introducing a ban when parliamentary time allowed, but despite this, it is still legal to use them in England.

Justin Tomlinson MP said: "I am honoured to support this coalition of animal welfare charities in the fight to ban electric shock collars. For several years we have been calling on the Government to carry out their commitment and bring forward plans to ban electric shock collars, and I hope that this event shows the breadth of support we have in carrying out this mission.

"Wide-ranging evidence proves that not only do they harm our four-legged friends, but shock collars fundamentally also do not fix the root cause of 'undesirable' behaviour and can often cause more harm than good. That's why I am backing the call to ban these cruel instruments without further delays."

Mark Beazley, Chief Executive at The Kennel Club said: "The Kennel Club has long campaigned for a ban on electric shock collars and we are so pleased to be welcoming MPs to this event to demonstrate, alongside our fellow animal welfare charities, a shared commitment to ensuring this is implemented.

"In August 2018, the then Environment Secretary, Michael Gove, announced electric shock collars would be banned, describing the collars as punitive and harmful. It is time for the Government to come good on this promise and introduce regulations to ban these dangerous and unnecessary devices imminently."

German Shorthaired Pointer wins The Kennel Club HPR Championship 2023

FTCh Sutchest Braun Gino, a four-year-old German Shorthaired Pointer from Harleston, Norfolk has won The Kennel Club's Hunt, Point and Retrieve (HPR) Championship. Sponsored by Skinner's Field & Trial Pet Foods, the event was held 15-16 November 2022 on the North Yorkshire Moors.

FTCh Sutchest Braun Gino, known at home as Gino and owned and handled by Jim Bird, was awarded first place at the competition which saw 24 talented working gundogs from HPR breeds tested on their natural working ability. The judges were Maureen Nixon and Rob Gould.

Jim said: "I am absolutely delighted to win the HPR Championship with Gino. He has been a fantastic dog for me from day one and he came out and won with style."

Kate Broers, Kennel Club Field Trial Secretary, said: "The Championship was a great success, despite the weather conditions, and thanks must go to all who were involved in the planning, preparation and running of the event. To hold the event on such an outstanding Estate is a real privilege, and The Kennel Club is extremely grateful to the Host and Keepers for hosting the Championship for the second consecutive year. Headkeeper Jimmy Brough, his keeping team and the keeper gun team ensured a successful and enjoyable two days.

"We would like to thank the judges Maureen and Rob for their time and expertise when judging the dogs. They handled the two days with understanding and skill.

"We would also like to extend our heartfelt gratitude to our sponsors, Skinner's Field & Trial, who give an awful lot to the world of working dogs and their representatives are passionate about providing the best nutrition for our gundog needs. They are greatly appreciated, and we would not be able to run these events without their generous support.

THE KENNEL CLUB
ASSURED BREEDERS

Find a puppy with the Assured Breeders scheme

Owners who buy from a Kennel Club assured breeder spend nearly 20% less in vet bills* compared to those who buy a dog elsewhere.

“Our dog is the light in our lives. Would always recommend a Kennel Club assured breeder.”

“I love my dog because this little bundle of fluff is the best thing that ever happened to us.”

“I love my dog because of the way he looks at me, his playful nature and his unconditional love!”

“I love my dog because she is my devoted best friend.”

For a healthy, happy puppy always buy from a Kennel Club assured breeder and do your part to help put puppy farmers out of business.

KENNEL CLUB ACCREDITED INSTRUCTORS SCHEME RECOGNISED AS CITY & GUILDS ACCREDITED PROGRAMME FOR ANOTHER YEAR

The Kennel Club has been accredited by City & Guilds as meeting its quality assurance criteria and granted Accredited Programme status for the a further year. It is gratifying that this is the sixth year in succession that the scheme has been recognised.

The KCAI Scheme is the first and only scheme for dog training instructors and behaviourists that has achieved programme accreditation from City & Guilds, which is a globally-recognised benchmark of quality. The City & Guilds accredited programme enables the Kennel Club to demonstrate that the processes and delivery of the KCAI Scheme meets City & Guilds quality standards, ensuring that the programme content is always relevant and that its structure and support are of the highest standard.

Kathryn Mansfield, Kennel Club Secretary, said: "The Kennel Club Accredited Instructors Scheme is helping to make a difference to dogs and the lives of their owners by improving the standards of dog training as a whole. By assessing its members against a robust standard set by the Kennel Club, the scheme has been able to provide a wide and accessible choice of dog training instructors who offer quality services and advice to the dog owning public."
