

Mr J M Taylor

I started training dogs in 1975 and ran in my first Field Trial in October 1979, gaining a Certificate of Merit. The dog's name was Hilcolm Hellath Wen and he went on to run in the English Springer Spaniel Championship in 1982.

Until recently my professional career severely restricted my time for Trialling, however, since retiring I have become much more involved, running in and judging Trials from the South coast to the North of Scotland.

I have judged a number of times in Sweden, including the Swedish Championship and have judged the Cocker Spaniel Championship. I am a founder of the Tyne Tees and Tweed Field Trial Association and am presently both Club President and Spaniel Field Trial Secretary.
