The Kennel Club Chairman and Vice-Chairman re-elected

The Kennel Club Board has re-elected Tony Allcock OBE as The Kennel Club Chairman and Paul Eardley as Kennel Club Vice-Chairman.

Tony Allcock OBE said: "It is with great pleasure that I have been re-elected for another year. It has been an honour to be Chairman of The Kennel Club for the last four years, especially through our 150th anniversary year where we have received a Royal Prefix and been granted a Garden Party at Buckingham Palace.

"I would like to thank Paul and the other Directors for all their support over the last year. I look forward to the year ahead which sees The Kennel Club going through a period of review, ensuring we can evolve and that our values are truly reflected in all we do and of course making a positive difference for dogs and their owners."

This month agility enthusiasts will be heading to the beautiful grounds of Rutland Showground for the 18th Kennel Club International Agility Festival on 10-13 August, including 17-year-old Will Bacchus, who shares his incredible journey to championship glory as a YKC member. We wish Will and everyone the best of luck and if you are unable to make it, all the action from the main ring will be livestreamed through The Kennel Club's dedicated Facebook page: facebook.com/groups/agility.news.thekennelclubuk/

After the success of The Kennel Club's colour dilution alopecia webinar we invite Dr Joanna Iliska, Genetics Research Manager at The Kennel Club to discuss the growing popularity of non-breed standard colours in puppies and how much the health of a dog is connected to its colour.

In our news pages we pay tribute to Valerie Foss, who was a strong supporter of the Kennel Gazette and regular contributor to the series, Treasures of

The Kennel Club. We congratulate those members of Heelwork to Music Team GB who exceeded expectations at the FCI Dog Dance World Championships in Denmark, the gallery team provide an artefact that will appeal to Labrador enthusiasts and is part of the 150 years exhibition. And from Labradors in art to 'Library Labradors', Suffolk Libraries unveil their new fundraising campaign called 'PAWS-itivity', of 40

Labrador sculptures that have been individually designed by local artists and placed in a selection of Suffolk libraries.

Our breed of the month is the Bernese Mountain Dog and we look at the origins of this multi-purpose farm dog capable of draught work and its success in the breed ring, its breed health coordinator highlights health issues to be aware of in the breed and its rescue coordinator discusses the challenges of rehoming a large breed. Intravaginal canine artificial insemination update

The Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons (RCVS) has recently clarified that there is no exemption for anyone other than a veterinary professional to carry out intravaginal canine artificial insemination and The Kennel Club will be updating its information and forms for breeders to reflect this new position.

Previously the RCVS had always maintained its advice that, as a minor procedure, suitably qualified lay people could carry out this type of AI – a position that The Kennel Club reflected – and it sought an exemption order from Defra to this effect. However, such an exemption, sought by the RCVS in 2019 and 2022, has not been confirmed by Defra and therefore, without this formal legal basis and given the length of time that has passed since the recommendation was made, the RCVS is now unable to maintain its previous position that lay people can carry out the procedure, and The Kennel Club's requirements on the matter have to change to reflect this new position.

Whilst artificial insemination can have numerous practical and welfare benefits, The Kennel Club understands the ethical concerns around the practice, particularly following the increase in the number of unregulated fertility clinics, and that it must be carried out responsibly in order to protect dog welfare. However, it is disappointing that the RCVS's request for an exemption order for suitably qualified lay people – which reflects the fact that this type of AI is a minor procedure – has not been forthcoming. The Kennel Club seeks reassurance that the already overstretched veterinary infrastructure can support the needs of responsible breeders, who will no longer have the remit to carry out this procedure themselves, and whilst it recognises and is concerned about the rise in unregulated canine fertility clinics, it does not believe that this is the solution to the issue.

The Kennel Club will be updating its information and forms accordingly. More information on this update from RCVS is available here.

First scientifically confirmed pet death from blue-green algae confirmed

The Kennel Club urges vigilance when walking dogs near water after the first scientifically confirmed case of blue-green algae death.

A heartbroken owner and The Kennel Club are urging dog owners to be vigilant when near bodies of water this summer, to help protect their pets from lethal blue-green algae.

Blue-green algae, otherwise known as cyanobacteria, is a substance that can be found in water sources such as streams, lakes, rivers, estuaries and the sea, particularly in mid-late summer, and especially after heatwaves.

Under certain conditions, the substance can multiply rapidly, forming large “blooms” which can contaminate and pollute the water, and can produce toxins that are deadly to dogs.

There are different types of toxins produced by blue-green algae so the signs of poisoning vary, but they can include dribbling, tiredness, vomiting and diarrhea, convulsions, problems breathing and organ failure. While symptoms usually appear within an hour it can sometimes be delayed by a few days, so owners should always contact their vet immediately if they believe their dog may have been affected.

Jan Egginton from Worcestershire experienced the devastating consequences that blue-green algae can cause, when her beloved two-year-old Flat Coated Retriever, Cove, was exposed to the substance at the side of Wimbleball Lake on Exmoor. The pair were walking alongside the reservoir while on a training holiday with six other dogs and their owners when Cove stopped near some dead fish near the side of lake.

There are different types of toxins produced by blue-green algae so the signs of poisoning vary

Despite Jan's husband reacting quickly to move Cove away from the area, the rapid effects of the substance had sadly already set in and Cove passed away less than 45 minutes later.

Analysis led by Dr Andrew Turner, from the Centre for Environment, Fisheries and Aquaculture Science (CEFAS) confirmed that Cove was exposed to anatoxins, which are found in such blue-green algae blooms, causing rapid poisoning and ultimately resulting in Cove's death, the first time in the UK that such an incident has been scientifically confirmed.

Following her heart breaking experience, Jan is warning other dog owners of the dangers of walking near water, particularly those who may be travelling further afield to new areas this summer.

Jan said: “Cove was unforgettable. He was so much more than just a dog.

“My husband first realised all was not well when Cove started staggering as he walked back from the lake, and by the time I'd caught up with them, he was already paralysed. The frightening aspect to me is that something so dangerous, that was not even in the water, can kill your dog in 45 minutes. We are so careful with our dogs, we think about them in everything we do; we know all of the poisonous foods and plants, and were very aware of blue-green algae, but one lick of the fish was enough.

“If Cove's story can make others more aware of the dangers not just in, but also around the water and saves lives as a result, then the pain of sharing his story will be worthwhile.”

With the summer holidays on the horizon, The Kennel Club is advising owners to be aware of how to identify blue-green algae and to not let their dogs swim or drink from it, or enter it themselves. The signs of blue-green algae can include:

- Water that appears a different colour, often resembling pea soup, although it can even be red, brown or black
- Blooms are not always large and can sometimes be seen in smaller areas close to the shore
- The water may smell musty, earthy or grassy and you may sometimes see foam along the shoreline

If you think your dog has been poisoned by blue-green algae, take your dog to the vet urgently, and if possible, call ahead to the vet to let them know – cyanobacteria poisoning requires rapid treatment.

Bill Lambert, Health, Welfare and Breeder Services Executive at The Kennel Club said: “Cove's story is incredibly distressing and a heartbreaking experience for his owners. Blue-green algae is very dangerous to both dogs and humans and it's important that owners take preventative measures to avoid the worst. There are signs to look for to identify whether it is the toxic substance, but if in doubt, don't go near water such as ponds, streams, lakes and rivers, especially at this time of year.”

For further information and advice, please visit thekennelclub.org.uk/bluealgae

Incidents of blue-green algae should also be reported to the Environment Agency via its 24-hour incident hotline: 0800 807060.

Recipients of prestigious worldwide veterinary awards announced

The winners of the 2023 International Canine Health Awards, the largest worldwide veterinary awards, have been announced via a virtual awards ceremony. Organised by The Kennel Club Charitable Trust and underwritten by a major gift from the Vernon and Shirley Hill Foundation, the awards celebrate and foster the latest scientific innovation and excellence in canine research, health and welfare.

Running for over a decade, the 2023 awards saw the prize money more than double with eight financial grants being awarded to further the recipients' contributions to both canine medicine and welfare. Winners this year include: a Professor of Oncology from Colorado State University improving canine and human cancer care; a dedicated mentor and neurosurgeon from Switzerland who has created new treatment concepts and surgical approaches; a postgraduate student aiming to help marginalised communities control rabies; a student researching antimicrobial resistance in breeding dogs; a Breed Health Co-Ordinator working to improve the health of Irish Wolfhounds, and three veterinary clinics in war-torn Ukraine working to help pets despite devastating conditions.

Applications were judged by an eminent international panel and the awards aimed to make a global impact with an increased focus on the One Health concept and the advancement of canine medicine in developing nations.

Dr Douglas Thamm

Dr Douglas Thamm from Colorado State University was awarded $100,000 as recipient of the Alan Kelly International Achievement Award. As one of the world's leading clinical oncologists and a dedicated teacher, Dr Thamm's clinical trials, including his pioneering work into B-cell lymphoma, and the quality of his research over many years, are widely recognised and have proved to be hugely beneficial in canine and human medicine.

From this year onwards, the International Achievement award has been renamed in tribute to Dr Alan Kelly, Dean Emeritus of the University of Pennsylvania School of Veterinary Medicine and Co-Founder of the University of Pennsylvania World Vet Awards. Dr Kelly was the first chair of the International Canine Health Awards judging panel when the awards began in 2012. The Trustees of The Kennel Club Charitable Trust are indebted to his leadership and integrity in getting the awards off the ground and evolving them into the prestigious International Canine Health Awards of today.

On receiving his award Dr Thamm shared: "Thank you for this incredible honour. Conducting canine cancer research is not just a job for me – it's a passion. I am grateful every day for the opportunity to pursue these studies as we strive to improve canine health and wellbeing. This award only strengthens my resolve to continue pushing the boundaries of knowledge and make a positive impact on canine health."

Professor Franck Forterre

Professor Franck Forterre of the University of Bern, Switzerland, was awarded $50,000 as recipient of the Lifetime Achievement Award. A popular international speaker, Professor Forterre is a renowned clinician, teacher and neurosurgeon. Outside the clinic he also founded a charitable project to provide veterinary treatment for dogs belonging to the vulnerable and homeless.

Dr Forterre shared on his achievement: "I am really overwhelmed with pleasure because the award will allow me to better carry out the social projects I have set up. On behalf of all the people and animals I will be able to help in the future, I would like to thank the International Canine Health Awards wholeheartedly for this incredible support."

Dr Maurice Karani

Dr Maurice Karani from Kenya was awarded $20,000 as recipient of the Postgraduate Student Inspiration Award. Maurice, who grew up in a remote area of Mount Kenya exposed to poverty and disease, is currently undertaking a PhD at the University of Liverpool and is a graduate fellow at the BMZ-funded One Health Centre in Africa led by the International Livestock Research Institute. He is passionate about increasing education and knowledge about rabies control for those living in marginalised communities and at the greatest risk of suffering from the fatal, but preventable, viral disease that affects canines and humans alike.

Dr Karani commented: "I am absolutely thrilled and honoured to have been selected as the recipient of this prestigious award! It is a true testament to my life's passion to improve canine health while embracing the transformative One Health approach. Winning this award further motivates me to continue my efforts and make a meaningful difference in the field."

Alice Diana

Alice Diana was awarded $10,000 as recipient of the Undergraduate Student Inspiration Award. Alice is currently studying Veterinary Medicine at the University of Padua, Italy. The judges were impressed by her proven dedication, commitment and strong interest in One Health and how human health is intimately connected with the health of animals and the environment. Alice plans to use the prize money to study antimicrobial misuse in canine breeding and produce protocols to address factors contributing to growing antimicrobial resistance.

Speaking on her achievement, Alice said: "Winning this award means so much more than just the prize money, it is an award for me as a person and as a student. It means being seen and recognised as worthy by a panel of impartial judges that they are willing to invest in my future and help me reach my potential. It has given me all the confidence I need to keep working my hardest towards my goals."

Dr Maura Lyons

Dr Maura Lyons was awarded £5,000 as recipient of the Breed Health Co-ordinator Award for her vital role in the Irish Wolfhound Health Group. Dr Lyons has been dedicated to improving the health of Irish Wolfhounds through spearheading research, development and increased awareness of vital health schemes to scientists, vets, breeders, everyday owners and the wider public.

Dr Lyons shared: "I'm absolutely delighted to have been chosen as the winner of this prestigious award. This award will mean the Irish Wolfhound Health Group can continue to offer affordable heart screening sessions for all Irish Wolfhounds throughout the UK. This award also recognises our breed community for their dedication to Irish Wolfhound health because, without the IWHG and the support of owners and breeders, I would not be able to fulfil my function as Breed Health Co-ordinator."

Special award

Three veterinary clinics in Ukraine in the cities of Kherson, Mykolaiv and Zaporizhzhia, were awarded $20,000 each as recipients of a special award category in recognition of the lifesaving work many veterinarians are carrying out for the country's much-loved dogs, despite the devastating conditions created by the war. The three clinics are representative of many veterinarians in the war-torn country that has fought to continue to provide services to domestic and many stray dogs arising from the war. The clinics were nominated by FOUR PAWS and the Ukraine Small Animal Veterinary Association.

Andrey Ponomarenko, director of Sviy Likar Clinic in Zaporizhzhia, said: "We express our sincere gratitude for this extraordinary support. Receiving this award is a beacon of hope for homeless animals who suffer daily due to the war."

Dr Andrew Higgins, Chairman of the International Canine Health Awards panel and trustee of The Kennel Club Charitable Trust which runs the awards, said: "This has been a very special year for the awards with increased prize money thanks to the incredible generosity of Vernon and Shirley Hill, and we are delighted to have made a special award this year to recognise the extraordinary work of the veterinary profession in Ukraine at this extremely difficult time.

"With a focus this year on rewarding excellence in the One Health concept, all the winners should feel justifiably proud of the positive changes they are each making to improve dog, and often human health across the globe. Each winner has demonstrated incredible dedication and passion to their research and we look forward to seeing more from them in the future."

Vernon Hill, founder of Metro Bank, and whose major gift from the Vernon and Shirley Hill Foundation underwrites the awards, said:

"Congratulations to the winners of the awards this year. We were very pleased to announce the more than doubling of the prize funds and a new special award for the 2023 awards.

"We are looking forward to seeing the impact of these awards become even bigger and spread even further. Supporting these world-renowned awards for over a decade, we are incredibly proud to have been part of making a difference to all our canine companions across the globe."

The Kennel Club Gundog Working Test winners announced

The Kennel Club's 150th Anniversary Gundog Working Tests were held at Capesthorpe Hall, Cheshire from 14 – 18 June. The event, which was kindly sponsored by Skinner's Pet Foods, saw gundogs tested on their natural working abilities under their relevant sub-groups: Retriever, Spaniel and Hunt, Point, Retrieve breeds (HPR), and featured expertly-set tests which replicated scenarios found in the shooting field.

150th Anniversary Test

To mark The Kennel Club's milestone anniversary, a special 150th Anniversary event was also held on 14 June, featuring some of the UK's top dogs and handlers from the four home nation teams.

The teams were made up of two Retrievers, two Spaniels and one Hunt, Point and Retrieve breed, all working together to show off their hunting, marking and retrieving skills. The event was judged by Eddie Kania, Peter Avery, Louis Rice, Tim Brain and David Logan, and saw Ireland, England and Wales place second, third and fourth, respectively.

Katharine Broers, Field Trial Secretary at The Kennel Club, said: "Congratulations to all of the winners from this year's Gundog Working Tests,

"The level of working ability on show was exceptionally high so all the handlers who took part should be incredibly proud of their dogs" and the 150th Anniversary Special Event, especially in such a significant year for The Kennel Club. Once again, the level of working ability on show was exceptionally high so all the handlers who took part should be incredibly proud of their dogs. "We would like to thank our hosts, Sir William Bromley Davenport and Mr & Mrs Bromley Davenport, whom we were delighted to welcome for the prize giving ceremony, as well as our judges for their time and expertise, and our sponsors, Skinner's, for their support.

"We would also like to extend our gratitude to all the helpers, without whom we would not be able to run such special events and finally to the extremely dedicated Working Party for their hard working in setting up and managing such an exciting course."

Political canine candidate Buster is crowned Holyrood Dog of the Year

Buster, a seven-year-old Golden Retriever has been crowned winner of the prestigious Holyrood Dog of the Year competition.

Buster, who entered the event with David Torrance, Scottish National Party MSP for Kirkcaldy, impressed the judges with his loveable character as well as his strong bond with David Torrance MSP.

The fifth Holyrood Dog of the Year competition, organised by The Kennel Club and Dogs Trust, took place on June 26 in the Scottish Parliament gardens at Horse Wynd, Edinburgh. Buster showed dogged determination as he battled it out to defeat 10 'paw-litical' opponents and win the coveted title of Holyrood Dog of the Year, arguably the most sought-after accolade in Scottish politics.

The MSPs entering the competition campaigned hard, canvassing for votes from the public before meeting the expert judges to share their dog's heroic deeds and acts of devotion.

With continued concern over the rising cost of living, this was the focus for this year's competition, as well as the positive impact that dog ownership can have on our mental health. Additionally, the competition encourages an open dialogue on dog welfare issues, as well as providing an opportunity for MSPs to meet with experts to discuss all aspects of the canine world.

Winning MSP, David Torrance MSP said of their winning moment: "It feels absolutely fantastic to win. Buster's made a huge difference to my life and now he's been recognised for how good he is. We've entered every year since he was a pup, but he's matured as he's gone along so it's great for him to win.

"Holyrood Dog of the Year is such an important event to highlight the work that

The Kennel Club and Dogs Trust do, as well as raise awareness of dog issues, especially things like people being able to afford to care for their dogs because of the cost of living."

The judging panel – Mark Beazley, Kennel Club Chief Executive; Owen Sharp, Dogs Trust Chief Executive; and Christine Grahame, Scottish National Party MSP for Midlothian South, Tweeddale and Lauderdale and 2022 winner - spent the morning with dogs from different political persuasions and ambitions.

Commenting on the reason Buster was selected as the 2023 Holyrood Dog of the Year, Mark Beazley, Chief Executive of The Kennel Club said: "Congratulations to Buster and David Torrance MSP for their well-deserved win at Holyrood, the bond between the pair was clear to see. There was strong competition from all of the MSPs and their dogs and we'd like to thank all those who took part. Holyrood Dog of the Year is a fantastic way to raise awareness of the issues currently affecting the nation's dogs."

Owen Sharp, Chief Executive of Dogs Trust added: "Our thanks to all MSPs and parliamentary pooches for taking part in Holyrood Dog of the Year, an event open to politicians and dogs of any pawlitical persuasion.

"It's always wonderful being in Edinburgh to witness the unique bonds between MSPs and their dogs and it is never an easy task choosing a winner.

Many congratulations to Buster and David Torrance MSP on taking this year's title due to their special relationship.

"As all dog owners know, there is nothing quite like the love, loyalty and devotion you experience when you welcome a dog into your family, and today's event is all about celebrating the relationship's we have with our amazing canine companions."

Leading the opposition in second place was Kura, a Flat Coated Retriever, owned by Tess White, Scottish Conservative MSP for North East Scotland, while third place was awarded to Oakley, a Dogs Trust rescue dog, accompanied by Alison Johnstone, Presiding Officer and MSP for Lothian.

In addition to 1st, 2nd and 3rd place awards, the competition also had a winner decided solely from the public vote which was Joy, a Greyhound, accompanied by Mark Ruskell, Scottish Green Party MSP for Mid Scotland and Fife.

"Buster's made a huge difference to my life and now he's been recognised for how good he is"

Kennel Club Gallery presents new capsule exhibition of porcelain dogs

A unique capsule exhibition of 37 porcelain dogs, from the Royal Crown Derby Museum collection, has opened at The Kennel Club Art Gallery in London and runs until 10 January 2024. The collection was curated by The Kennel Club Art Collection Curators and well-known canine artist Deidre Ashdown, who originally proposed the exhibition.

The ceramic dogs are generously on loan from the Royal Crown Derby Museum with pieces from their National Dog Collection and Dogs of the World Series, as well as commemorative pieces, such as the Queen Elizabeth II Diamond Jubilee Corgi.

The detailed models featured in the exhibition represent a long history of porcelain manufacturing in Derby, starting in 1750 with modeller Andrew Planche making small white figures. Planche partnered with decorator William Duesbury and the pair opened a factory on Nottingham Road. The factory gained popularity among customers and even royal attention from King George III who went on to grant them the name Crown Derby Porcelain. Unfortunately, hard times hit and the factory moved to a smaller premises on King Steet, but they continued to create their classic designs for their customers. In 1878 a new porcelain factory opened nearby; while they were initially competitors, the two businesses then merged in 1935 and became the factory known and still running today - Royal Crown Derby.

18 of the dogs in the exhibition were made in the King Street factory between 1848 to 1935 and are praised for their lifelike characteristics of the breeds – with lounging Greyhounds, alert Pointers and cheerful Terriers all making an appearance.

Marianne Walker, Art Collection Curator from The Kennel Club, said: “We’re very excited to welcome these 37 porcelain dogs on loan from their historic roots in Derby and hope that as many people as possible will take the opportunity to see them while they are on display in London.

“We would also like to thank Deidre Ashdown and Elizabeth Woledge, Director of The Royal Crown Derby Museum for collaborating on us with this special capsule exhibition.”

The exhibition is open to the public until 10 January 2024 at The Kennel Club Art Gallery, 10 Clarges Street, Mayfair, W1J 8AB, from Monday to Friday between 9.30am to 4.30pm.

The first open show dedicated to Vulnerable Native Breeds successful at Stoneleigh

On the 18 June, the Lancashire Heeler Association successfully held an open show, with over 550 entries, dedicated to the 34 vulnerable native British and Irish breeds.

Vulnerable native breeds are dog breeds of British and Irish origin that are considered to be vulnerable due to their declining registration numbers recording 300 or less per year.

Judge Ken Bartlett awarded best in show to the Kerry Blue Terrier Kebulak King Of Swing owned by Ms C Davani and Mr A Potts.

Show secretary Jacky Cutler said: “Feedback has been brilliant and so many excellent comments have been received from exhibitors, judges and visitors. The date for next year is 6 October 2024, at The Kennel Club Building, Stoneleigh, Warwickshire.”

Accredited trainers for obedience, agility and rally needed for judges' training programme

The Kennel Club is calling for anyone interested in becoming an obedience, agility or rally Accredited Trainer for the judges' training programme to get in touch.

This judges' training programme has been developed over a period of time and follows the requirements already in place for those involved in judging other canine activities. It underlines The Kennel Club's commitment to maintaining and improving the standard of judges and judging at official Kennel Club licensed events and, in so doing, ensures the quality of dogs and the value of awards they receive at these events.

As part of the training programme, The Kennel Club has a number of Accredited Trainers for each discipline, who are responsible for delivering each seminar and conducting the examination. All of the Accredited Trainers are established judges of long standing and have attended training and assessment sessions prior to their appointment in order to prove their own knowledge and competence in delivering the seminar syllabus. There is a good geographical spread of trainers to ensure that each area of the country is covered to minimise distances for those attending seminars.

The Kennel Club is now inviting applications from interested parties who would like to be considered for the position of obedience, agility or rally Accredited Trainer.

Any candidates interested in applying for the position of OBEDIENCE Accredited Trainer need to meet the following criteria:

- Qualified to judge championship C level, to demonstrate judging knowledge and experience at all levels. Consideration would be given to experienced open C judges working towards CH C approval and having judged 10 Open Cs
- Knowledge of Class C as a competitor
 - Show management experience, so as to demonstrate knowledge of the needs of societies when organising competitions
 - Good presentation, facilitation and teaching skills are essential
 - Have attended and passed the exam for the Obedience Regulations and Judging Procedure seminar and attended the Test Design and Practice of Judging Seminar
- A willingness to travel to deliver seminars

Candidates interested in applying for the position of AGILITY Accredited

Trainer will need to submit a CV and demonstrate the following criteria:

- Five or more years of regular judging experience
- Judged at Grade 6 or above
- Good presentation and teaching skills
- Attended and passed the exam for the Agility Regulations and Judging Procedure seminar and attended and passed the Course Design and Judging Seminar; or passed the Regulations and Judging Procedure examination on the Kennel Club Academy and attended and passed an Agility Judging Seminar
- Willing to travel to deliver seminars
- Have a commitment to mentor newly qualified agility judges for their initial judging appointments
- Willing to carry out CPD assessments on established judges

Any candidates interested in applying for the position of RALLY Accredited Trainer need to meet the following criteria:

- Three or more years of regular judging experience
- Be eligible to judge Level 6
- Good presentation and teaching skills are essential
- Have attended and passed the exam for the rally Regulations and Judging Procedure seminar and attended the practical seminar
- A willingness to travel to deliver seminars

Those interested should send their applications via email by Thursday 3 August 2023

Those interested should send their applications to the Working Dog Activities Team to either obedience@thekennelclub.org.uk, agility@thekennelclub.org.uk or rally@thekennelclub.org.uk by Thursday 3 August 2023.

Applicants for all three disciplines should ensure they are available for an assessment day to be held on Tuesday 12 September 2023 at The Kennel Club Building, Stoneleigh.

Protecting the future of dog activities - together

As we know, dog activities are a much-loved part of many people's lives, valued for both the social benefits as much as the enjoyment of the process of training our dogs and taking part. But as we reflect on the recent run of spring and summer championship and open shows, one comment that seems to be repeated and heard, on the grass, and by the ring, is that although there's never been a greater number of dog owners in the UK, participation levels are still down in some of the disciplines.

This is concerning of course, to all of us including our members, our Board and our staff. It makes it more important than ever, to have one of our strategic aims as 'to protect the future of dog activities together with our sporting grassroots network'. Many reasons for this have been mooted. But to get to the root cause or causes, to address the elements we have control over, we need to have more than a gut feel and a strong opinion. Which is why earlier this year we undertook a large activity survey, to really understand the forces at play, to base our reasoning and recommendations on a large body of data. We wanted to understand who was involved, who wanted to be involved, who had stepped back from being involved and of course, why.

We started by collecting information from over 10,000 people (all over 18 years old) that were involved in dog activities via a short survey to gauge what participation looks like across the UK. We then followed it up with a longer survey using Kennel Club data hearing from over 4,000 people telling us in depth, what participants and organisers, needed, wanted and how this has changed over the past few years because of the pandemic and the rise in the cost of living.

What did we find we already knew?

- Firstly, the data confirmed that taking part in any dog related activity is a popular pastime in the UK.
- That among current competitors there is a lack of younger people involved.
- That many people view The Kennel Club as elitist and as an extension, our activities can be seen as unwelcoming or intimidating to new participants.
- Finally, that more needs to be done to bring some of these owners into the world of dog activities.

What was confirmed that we had suspected?

- The data confirmed a number of trends that we had already suspected.
- That large proportions of competitors and organisers have lapsed – given up their role in the activities - partly due to the cost of taking part in light of the cost of living crisis, and partly due to the time and effort required when benefits were perceived as low.

- That competitors clearly want more events local to them, to help drive down costs and time.
- That there is a strong desire from all to have greater clarity over rules.
- Especially for organisers, there is a real need for less bureaucracy, more support around rules and regulations and better training.

What was a surprise?

There were a number of surprising trends that could help us to turn the tide and attract new people and potentially attract lapsed competitors and organisers back into active participation.

- We already know that the profile of dog activity participants who are already known to The Kennel Club tend to be rurally-based women aged over 55.

For the Members

Protecting the future of dog activities - together - continued

However, what was surprising was a new profile emerging for a large proportion of those who take part in other dog activities, not currently connected to us in any way. This profile being men under 55 years old, who are more urban-based.

- We know that in the wider population, dog activities are a popular pastime with many owners keen to take part. However these owners tend to be young, with younger dogs. And, for these people the more accessible non-regulated events are seen as having a better payoff against time, effort and cost required. They are seen as more attractive, more welcoming events and activities than those regulated by The Kennel Club.
- There are a number of activities that compete for dog owner's attention. The range of these and given their non-regulated nature, provides stiff competition for breed shows. It was also found that many dog owners participate in at least two activities eg obedience and agility.
- Given the profile of our known populations, the data also indicates that exhibitors may have lapsed, given the age of their dogs.

- Finally, both competitors and organisers can feel lost when it comes to finding the right information when they need it, with satisfaction in this area very low.

What is happening to the data?

Clearly, there is a wealth of information that we have been reviewing to enable us to provide key trends.

Our challenge now is to look at the barriers to participation and consider ways of reducing them or removing them altogether. The good news is we've already started looking at some of these barriers, as part of our other strategic projects, by reviewing and hopefully reducing the complexity around our governance, simplifying the Red Book, making our information relevant and easier to find and our website easier to navigate.

But to consider what more we need to do, we need to continue to examine the results with a whole host of stakeholders from Board Directors to internal expert teams, to pull out key pieces of information. We hope to start holding some focus groups with activity participants and organisers to discuss these assumptions and perceptions in more depth. Already, over the past few months, at shows where we have been holding lounges, members and non-members have been putting their names forward to be included in these. But clearly, we also need to attract participants from the other disciplines to hear from them too.

We are considering how we might make contact with lapsed participants and organisers, to see if they are interested in playing a role even if not active at present, and to speak with volunteers to see how we can help them to continue taking part in the sport and make volunteering easier.

Ideally, we'd like to engage with people we don't currently talk to, as well as consider how we can be involved with the range of other activities. It's a big task, and it's important we involve as many different groups as we can along the way. Whatever we do, we know we need to strengthen our existing partnerships, build new relationships and make our activities more welcoming.

We are all passionate about dog activities in one discipline or another and as we go further, we know we can count on your support.

Important message regarding awards gained at all licensed events

We would like to apologise that due to the operational issues currently being experienced by The Kennel Club, competitors at forthcoming licensed events will experience a delay on the issue of awards by our office. However, we would like to remind competitors that it is permitted to enter events where eligibility is dependent upon awards and/or titles which are pending confirmation, e.g. champion stakes. Any disputes regarding eligibility will be dealt with subsequently.

Any queries please email KCNotifications@thekennelclub.org.uk

We appreciate the patience of competitors and exhibitors.

THE KENNEL CLUB

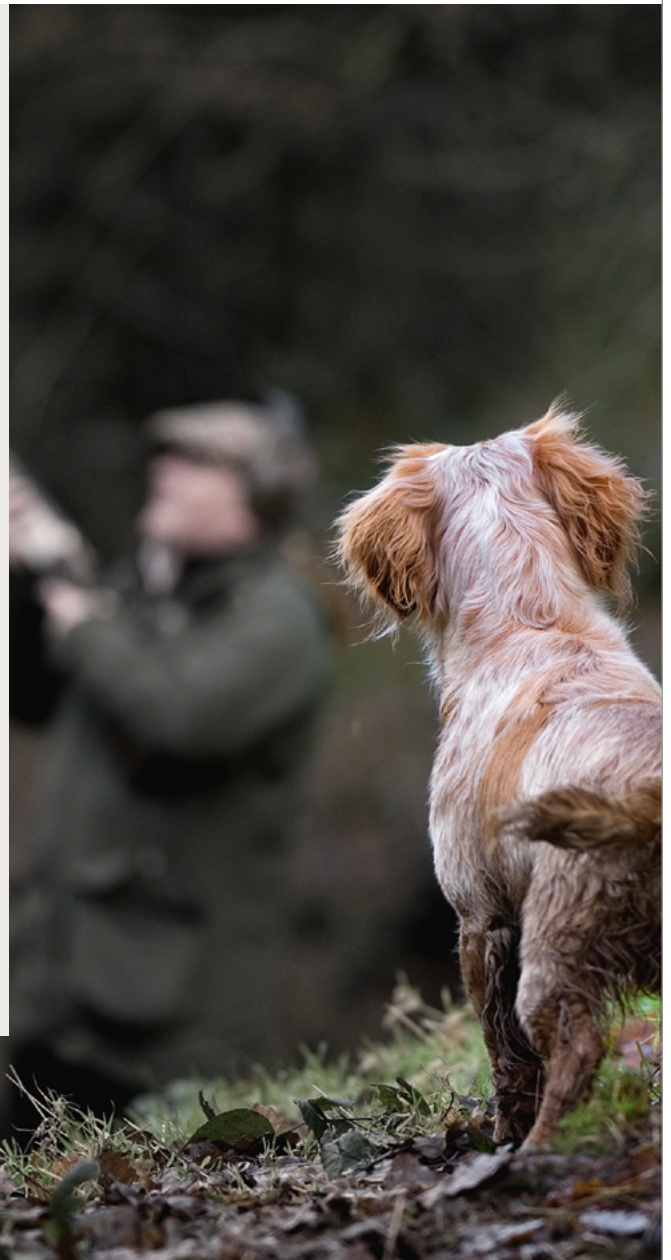

The Emblehope & Burngrange Estate Northumberland

A Centre of Excellence for Working Dogs

This beautiful moorland estate stretches to some 7,550 acres and is absolutely ideal for walked up trialling and training for Retrievers, Spaniels and HPRs. The estate offers both Pheasant and Partridge shooting and the varied terrain offers opportunities for all breeds of Gundog to demonstrate their natural working abilities. Woodland cover provides excellent hunting for Spaniels whilst the stretching moorland is ideal for challenging retrieves and for the pointing breeds to show off their hunting abilities to the full.

As a Centre of Excellence for Working Dogs, the Estate also welcomes the full range of working dog activities including:

- Field Trials including Pointer and Setter Spring Stakes
- Gundog Working Tests
- Gundog Training Days
- Live Game Training Days
- Pointing Tests
- Working Trials
- Bloodhound Trials
- Activity Training Days
- Shooting and Gundog Activities

THE KENNEL CLUB
ASSURED BREEDERS

Find a puppy with the Assured Breeders scheme

Owners who buy from a Kennel Club assured breeder spend nearly 20% less in vet bills* compared to those who buy a dog elsewhere.

“Our dog is the light in our lives. Would always recommend a Kennel Club assured breeder.”

“I love my dog because this little bundle of fluff is the best thing that ever happened to us.”

“I love my dog because of the way he looks at me, his playful nature and his unconditional love!”

“I love my dog because she is my devoted best friend.”

For a healthy, happy puppy always buy from a Kennel Club assured breeder and do your part to help put puppy farmers out of business.

THE KENNEL CLUB BREEDS

LIAISON COUNCIL

The next meeting of the Kennel Club Breeds Liaison Council will be held on Wednesday 8 November 2023. Proposals for inclusion on the agenda should reach the Breeds Liaison Council Secretary by 10 August 2023.

Each eligible society or an individual may submit items for the agenda, through a council representative. Proposals must be concise and, if an amendment or an additional regulation is proposed, the regulation number must be given. All submissions must be signed by the society/individual and the representative.

Please check The Kennel Club website to find your breed representative/delegate at: www.thekennelclub.org.uk/events-and-activities/dog-showing/already-competing-in-dog-showing

All items for inclusion on the agenda should be sent to the Breeds Liaison Council Secretary, Tess Newson via email at breedshows@thekennelclub.org.uk

The Kennel Club is calling for anyone interested in becoming an obedience, agility or rally Accredited Trainer for the judges' training programme to get in touch.

This judges' training programme has been developed over a period of time and follows the requirements already in place for those involved in judging other canine activities. It underlines The Kennel Club's commitment to maintaining and improving the standard of judges and judging at official Kennel Club licensed events and, in so doing, ensures the quality of dogs and the value of awards they receive at these events.

As part of the training programme, The Kennel Club has a number of Accredited Trainers for each discipline, who are responsible for delivering each seminar and conducting the examination. All of the Accredited Trainers are established judges of long standing and have attended training and assessment sessions prior to their appointment in order to prove their own knowledge and competence in delivering the seminar syllabus. There is a good geographical spread of trainers to ensure that each area of the country is covered to minimise distances for those attending seminars.

The Kennel Club is now inviting applications from interested parties who would like to be considered for the position of obedience, agility or rally Accredited Trainer.

Any candidates interested in applying for the position of obedience Accredited Trainer need to meet the following criteria:

- Qualified to judge championship C level, to demonstrate judging knowledge and experience at all levels. Consideration would be given to experienced open C judges working towards CH C approval and having judged 10 Open Cs
- Knowledge of Class C as a competitor
- Show management experience, so as to demonstrate knowledge of the needs of societies when organising competitions
- Good presentation, facilitation and teaching skills are essential
- Have attended and passed the exam for the Obedience Regulations and Judging Procedure seminar and attended the Test Design and Practice of Judging Seminar
- A willingness to travel to deliver seminars

Candidates interested in applying for the position of agility Accredited Trainer will need to submit a CV and demonstrate the following criteria:

- Five or more years of regular judging experience
- Judged at Grade 6 or above

- Good presentation and teaching skills
- Attended and passed the exam for the Agility Regulations and Judging Procedure seminar and attended and passed the Course Design and Judging Seminar; or passed the Regulations and Judging Procedure examination on the Kennel Club Academy and attended and passed an Agility Judging Seminar
- Willing to travel to deliver seminars
- Have a commitment to mentor newly qualified agility judges for their initial judging appointments

The Kennel Club Accredited Instructors Scheme

The Kennel Club Accredited Instructors (KCAI) Scheme offers its members the opportunity to gain a nationally-recognised vocational accreditation based on a robust standard set by the Kennel Club. It is the first and only scheme for dog training instructors and behaviourists that has achieved programme accreditation from City & Guilds, a globally-recognised benchmark of quality.

This section of the Kennel Club Journal is dedicated to KCAI Scheme members. It provides information on the resources available to members, announcements on newly awarded Kennel Club Accredited Instructors, and KCAI Scheme news and updates.

For more information on the KCAI Scheme, please visit: www.kcai.org.uk

ADDITIONAL ACCREDITATION FOR CHRISTINE MEANEY

We would like to congratulate Christine Meaney from Lancashire on achieving an additional accreditation in Assistance dogs (AD). Christine has been a member of the scheme since 2004 and during this time she has also achieved accreditation in Companion Dog Training and Good Citizen Dog training Scheme.

Christine Meaney KCAI (CD, GCDTS, AD) Kennel Club Accredited Instructor

GUIDE TO ACCREDITATION (SELF ASSESSMENT)

Assessing your knowledge and skills as a dog training instructor is essential to developing and improving your performance.

This self-assessment guide will enable you to identify any gaps in their knowledge, skills and/or experience, to assist you in evaluating your readiness to apply for accreditation, prior to submitting an application.

Find out more about the KCAI Guide to Accreditation (self assessment) click here

PRACTICAL AND ORAL ASSESSMENT

- Have you completed all nine KCAI online assessments?
- Are you ready to apply for your practical assessment?

If the answer is yes, then visit the KCAI members area on the Kennel Club website to access the accreditation application and supporting criteria documentation.

FIND A CLUB

If you are an accredited instructor and train at a listed status club remember to log onto Find a club to check if the club where you train has the KCAI badge displayed on their club page. If not, please contact the kcai@thekennelclub.org.uk

KCAI RESOURCES AND GUIDANCE

This can be accessed via the Kennel Club website and contains all of the information related to the scheme and the relevant documents to help support members that are working towards accreditation.

You can access this here.
