

The Incident Book at Events

01 August 2016 16:38

The Kennel Club would like to remind clubs and societies of the importance of the proper reporting of any incidents occurring at events, using the incident book. Clear reports, containing all relevant details, allow incidents to be investigated more easily and as a result any issues may be resolved more quickly, which is beneficial to all concerned.

The Kennel Club website has been updated to explain the responsibilities of the show/trial management when it comes to reporting incidents, as well as offering advice on how to fill out the incident book correctly. Competitors are reminded that they should report an incident occurring at an event, and detailed guidance on how to do so is provided on the website. Please visit the webpage for more information.

Any incidents of unsatisfactory judging procedure may be reported via the incident book at an event. The Kennel Club will note any such reports, and will investigate should consistent reports be received regarding any one judge.
