 - b. Clip, Trim & Strip
2. Both classes have finals at Crufts

YKC DOG GROOMING GENERAL RULES

G: QUALIFICATION CRITERIA

STEP 1

1. The waterfall/cascade qualification method will be used to determine who qualifies for the following competitions:
 - i. Groom Through
 - ii. Clip, Trim & Strip
2. This method is a modification of a roll down system and will be described in detail below:
3. Step 1: First Places
 - i. Win a qualifier in your age and height category during the qualification year.
 - ii. First place will guarantee you a qualification space.
 - a. First places with faults (including time faults) also qualify.
 - iii. Eliminations do not receive placings and therefore do NOT qualify you, even if you were the only person in the subcategory.

STEP 2

4. Step 2: Cascade
 - i. The second step is only used if step 1 did not fill all of the available qualification spaces, after all qualifying shows have finished.
 - ii. All those who have not yet qualified but received a 2nd place with NO TIME FAULTS* are then considered:
 - a. If there are more 2nd place competitors than we have qualification spaces left to fill, then all of the 2nd place competitors names will be placed into a random draw.
 - (i) If you received multiple 2nd places throughout the year in a particular competition, your name will go into the draw only once
 - (ii) Members will be selected at random until all qualification spaces have been filled for that subcategory. At which point step 2 ends.
 - b. If inviting all of the 2nd place competitors would fill all of the remaining qualification spaces exactly, then all 2nd place competitors fill the qualification spaces and step 2 ends
 - c. If inviting all of the 2nd place competitors does not fill up all of the remaining qualification spaces, all of the 2nd place competitors are invited and the process will be repeated for 3rd place, followed by 4th place and so on, until all of the spaces for the subcategory have been filled.

1. On the next two pages you will find a worked example of the waterfall method in action
2. At the end of this document, you will find an appendix which details the YKC's reasons for selecting this particular qualification method, as well outlining why other methods were not selected.

* To ensure that members can demonstrate they can complete a course competitively in a timely manner

 This is to stop people feeling they need to "chase" lots of 2nd or 3rd place

EXAMPLE

1. WORKED EXAMPLE OF THE WATERFALL METHOD

- i. In this example, we are going to assume the following
 - a. 4 qualifying shows for the year
 - b. 10 places on offer
 - c. These results are for the "12-17 – Groom Through" subcategory

PLACE	NORTH DOG SHOW RESULTS		SOUTH DOG SHOW RESULTS		EAST DOG SHOW RESULTS		WEST DOG SHOW RESULTS
	HANDLER	DOG	HANDLER	DOG	HANDLER	DOG	HANDLER	DOG
1	BOB	STAR	BOB	STAR	SAM	ZIGGY	SOPHIE	FIDO
2	JAMES	BUSTER	ANNA	SKY	BOB	STORM	SAM	ZIGGY
3	DAVID	TITAN	SAM	ZIGGY	ZARA	CHASE	TINA	PLUTO

5	SOPHIE	LEAF	ZARA	CHASE	ANNA	SKY	HARVEY	LUDO
6	BOB	PIPPIN	SAM	TRIP	THEO	ROVER	FRED	TYBALT
ETC

2. Use Step 1

- i. Step 1 looks for every member who has received a first place at a qualifier. Each member with a first place has their Crufts qualification space guaranteed.
 - a. To represent this, we will colour successfully qualified members in yellow
 - b. We will grey out Bob's 2nd win as he does not receive 2 qualification spaces
 - c. From the example below, only 3 spaces have been filled so far, therefore we need to move to step 2 to fill the remaining positions

	HANDLER	DOG	HANDLER	DOG	HANDLER	DOG	HANDLER	DOG
1	BOB	STAR	BOB	STAR	SAM	ZIGGY	SOPHIE	FIDO

5	SOPHIE	LEAF	ZARA	CHASE	ANNA	SKY	HARVEY	LUDO
6	BOB	PIPPIN	SAM	TRIP	THEO	ROVER	FRED	TYBALT
ETC

3. Using Step 2 (x1)

- i. All those who received 2nd places with no time faults are looked at
 - a. Bob and Sam have already qualified, so we can grey them out
 - b. James and Anna have not yet qualified so will receive spaces as accepting them both would not exceed the 10 spaces limit
 - c. We have now allocated 5 out of 10 spaces

PLACE	NORTH DOG SHOW RESULTS		SOUTH DOG SHOW RESULTS		EAST DOG SHOW RESULTS		WEST DOG SHOW RESULTS

EXAMPLE CONT

4. Step 2 Repeated (x2)

- i. As 10 spaces have still not been filled, 3rd place is now looked at
 - a. Sam is greyed out as they have already qualified
 - b. Tina is removed (in red) as she received time faults
 - c. David and Zara are both given spaces as that brings the total qualified to 7

PLACE	NORTH DOG SHOW RESULTS		SOUTH DOG SHOW RESULTS		EAST DOG SHOW RESULTS		WEST DOG SHOW RESULTS
	HANDLER	DOG	HANDLER	DOG	HANDLER	DOG	HANDLER	DOG
1	BOB	STAR	BOB	STAR	SAM	ZIGGY	SOPHIE	FIDO

5	SOPHIE	LEAF	ZARA	CHASE	ANNA	SKY	HARVEY	LUDO
6	BOB	PIPPIN	SAM	TRIP	THEO	ROVER	FRED	TYBALT
ETC

5. Step 2 Repeated (x3)

- i. Again, 10 spaces have still not been filled; 4th place is now considered
- ii. All 4 members with 4th places have not yet qualified, only 3 spaces are available
- iii. All 4th place names go into a hat (Blue)

PLACE	NORTH DOG SHOW RESULTS		SOUTH DOG SHOW RESULTS		EAST DOG SHOW RESULTS		WEST DOG SHOW RESULTS
	HANDLER	DOG	HANDLER	DOG	HANDLER	DOG	HANDLER	DOG
1	BOB	STAR	BOB	STAR	SAM	ZIGGY	SOPHIE	FIDO

5	SOPHIE	LEAF	ZARA	CHASE	ANNA	SKY	HARVEY	LUDO
6	BOB	PIPPIN	SAM	TRIP	THEO	ROVER	FRED	TYBALT
ETC

1. Step 2 conclusion

- i. Of the 4 names in the hat, 3 are selected at random
- ii. Sarah's name was not picked from the hat, therefore she does not qualify
- iii. Laura, Heather and Harvey were randomly selected and will qualify
- iv. 10 spaces have now been filled

PLACE	NORTH DOG SHOW RESULTS		SOUTH DOG SHOW RESULTS		EAST DOG SHOW RESULTS		WEST DOG SHOW RESULTS
	HANDLER	DOG	HANDLER	DOG	HANDLER	DOG	HANDLER	DOG
1	BOB	STAR	BOB	STAR	SAM	ZIGGY	SOPHIE	FIDO
2	JAMES	BUSTER	ANNA	SKY	BOB	STORM	SAM	ZIGGY
3	DAVID	TITAN	SAM	ZIGGY	ZARA	CHASE	TINA	PLUTO
4	LAURA	CHEDAR	HEATHER	CHAI	SARAH	ROLO	HARVEY	SAMSON
5	SOPHIE	LEAF	ZARA	CHASE	ANNA	SKY	HARVEY	LUDO
6	BOB	PIPPIN	SAM	TRIP	THEO	ROVER	FRED	TYBALT
ETC

1. Who qualified in this example?

- i. In this example, all those in yellow have qualified
- ii. A special mention should be made to Bob,
 - a. He qualified Star by placing first at the North Dog show

When entering Crufts, Bob may pick either "Star" or "Storm" as the dog he is entering.

4th Place was being considered for spaces, therefore Bob placing 2nd with Storm at the East Dog show allows him to pick that dog. (n.b. this is not the case for the YKC Pairs competition.)

CRUFTS QUALIFICATION SPACES AVAILABLE

YKC CRUFTS QUALIFICATION SPACES

A: QUALIFICATION SPACES AVAILABLE

Across all subcategories, there is a soft-cap* of 24 spaces available for members to qualify for.

1. The allocation of spaces will be as follows:
 - i. 12 spaces for Groom Through
 - ii. 12 spaces for Clip, Trim & Strip
2. Each class will be further split into each height as follows:
 - i. 5 spaces for every subcategory e.g.
 - a. 4 spaces for 06-11 – Groom Through

Ideal distribution of available spaces

*If there are more than 24 unique 1st placed competitors across all YKC dog grooming qualifiers, the YKC will honour each of them even if that means more than 60 total pairs

3. If a subcategory (eg 06-11 - Clip, Trim & Strip), does not manage to fill all 4 qualification spaces, the remaining spaces will be randomly (but evenly) distributed between the other age categories in that class.
 - i. eg [12– 17 Clip, Trim & Strip] and [18– 24 Clip, Trim & Strip] until all 12 age category spaces are filled
 - ii. If a class still does not manage to fill all 12 allocated spaces, the spaces will be offered to the other class
 - a. A third of the available spaces going to each age category
 - (1) if an odd number of spaces are available, the youngest eligible age category will be offered the slightly larger share of spaces.
 - b. In this example if the [Clip, Trim & Strip] class could only fill 5 pairs spaces out of the 12 max, 7 spaces would be split between all three age categories of the [Groom Through] class.
 - (1) The [06-11 Groom Through] category would receive 3 additional spaces, whereas the [12-17 – Groom Through] & [18-24 Groom Through] would receive 2 additional spaces each. See below an example

DOG GROOMING COMPETITIONS
RULES 2023 (CRUFTS 2024)

SECTION 8:
APPENDIX

A:

CONSIDERED QUALIFICATION METHODS

1. The YKC have considered multiple different qualification techniques to choose which would be the best for our members which will be outlined below:
2. First place only – *Partially Accepted
 - i. This method would require you to gain a 1st place at qualifying show. No other result would be acceptable.
 - ii. Pros
 - a. Very simple to understand
 - b. Guarantees a high standard of competitor
 - iii. Cons
 - a. If a competitor wins a qualifier, either:
 - (1) Any subsequent wins block other people from qualifying
 - (2) The competitor is forbidden to compete in this competition further
 - b. If one of the classes has no entries or all competitors are eliminated, the qualification space is lost
 - iv. Conclusion
 - a. For most YKC competitions, this method is too simplistic and would result in either 1 person blocking multiple people from qualifying or would bar a competitor from entering heats;
3. League Table – *Rejected
 - i. This method would allocate points to each place (down to 20th) of the qualifier. Dog and Handlers would gain points at each show, with the highest X number of competitors making it through to the finals
 - ii. Pros
 - a. Each win or place gets you one step closer to the final
 - b. Competitors are allowed and encouraged to enter as many shows as possible
 - c. Makes use of all allocated spaces
 - iii. Cons
 - a. This method rewards competitors who are able to travel, rather than the highest skilled competitor
 - (1) Some families may not be in a financial position to travel to every YKC show, therefore making qualification potentially a question of: “are you rich enough to compete”
 - b. Winning a qualifying heat may not qualify you
 - c. You will only know if you have qualified at the end of the year
 - iv. Conclusion:
 - a. The YKC does not wish to implement a system whereby you must continually chase points. It is not our desire to make people poorer for attempting to qualify. League based systems work when qualifiers are all local, as the distance barrier is removed, however on a national scale, such as YKC qualifiers, it is not a fair method.

4. First Place & Roll Down - *Rejected

- i. This method is similar to the first method discussed, however, instead of previous winners blocking the progress other competitors, if a previous winner did win again, the qualification space would roll down to the next competitor in the category who had not yet qualified.
- ii. Pros
 - a. Largely well understood
 - b. Allows members who have already qualified to compete without withholding places from other competitors
- iii. Cons
 - a. A person coming 2nd at the first event of the season would not qualify whereas potentially a person coming 10th (for example) at the last event of the season might
 - (1) This would give an advantage to those entering shows at the end of the year
 - b. The roll down list would need serious thought into how dogs across different height categories would roll down
 - c. If any delay in gathering results occurs, it would be unclear if you have received a roll down place or not
 - d. It is not possible to guarantee the skill level based on a roll down system
 - e. If one of the classes has no entries or all competitors are eliminated, the qualification space is lost
- iv. Conclusion:
 - a. As the YKC shows are not evenly distributed throughout the UK at all times during the year, certain regions may find more of their shows at the beginning of the year, rather than end. People attending shows at the start of the year have less of a chance of qualifying. It also can be confusing and demoralising when someone who gained 10th place was able to qualify whereas your 2nd place does not.

5. Points based system - *Rejected

- i. A hybrid between a league and a first place only option, this method awarded points based on whether you came 1st [30 points], 2nd [15 points] or 3rd [10 Points]. If you accrued 30 points across the year then you successfully qualified.
- ii. Pros:
 - a. Once attaining 30 points, you were guaranteed a qualification space
 - b. Allows people who keep coming 2nd or 3rd to the same people a route to still qualify
 - c. Does not force anyone to chase points
- iii. Cons:
 - a. It was still possible for members to block progression for others as the points did not roll down.
 - (1) If there was a roll down of points, too many people would qualify
 - b. It was not clear how many competitors would qualify in a given year
- iv. Conclusion:
 - a. This was the YKC's preferred qualification method until 2023. Upon review, this method just pushes the blocking down to the third-place position, and attaining 3 x third places is challenging, especially in certain competitions. As such the YKC has moved to a different qualification method in 2023.

6. Giant Combined Scoresheet - Rejected

- i. This method would combine all of the results from every YKC qualifier into 1 giant results sheet. Instead of having course time and faults determine the winner, the course time would be converted into average speed (m/sec) by also capturing the course length.
- ii. Pros
 - a. This would capture the fastest dogs completing courses with the fewest faults which should theoretically guarantee a level of skill
 - b. Promotes a healthy competitive scene as going for a steady clear may not be sufficient to gain qualification.
- iii. Cons
 - a. Not all courses are created equal – some courses may feature long winding course sections that will arbitrarily lower any competitors average speed if the judge set a particularly “twisty” course.
 - b. Additionally, weather conditions would also have a major impact on whether or not you had a good chance of qualifying for the finals, as poor weather conditions will adversely affect your average speed.
 - c. Qualification would be unknown until the end of the year
 - d. In practice, skill is not guaranteed as the fastest dog around a simple course with mostly straight lines does not indicate whether the dog would be similarly as good around a more complex course.

7. Random Ballot - Rejected

- i. This method would get rid of all qualifiers and simply allow any member to submit a ballot and receive an equal chance of being selected to compete.
- ii. Pros
 - a. Very simple
 - b. Method of selection is “fair” – although problematic
- iii. Cons
 - a. Has nothing to do with skill
 - b. Does not promote the activity of participating in dog grooming
 - c. No guarantee of any dog grooming prowess
 - d. Just opting for a ballot removes all YKC qualifiers and removes opportunities for our members to compete against those in a similar age bracket
- iv. Conclusion
 - a. The YKC wants to promote youth competitions, not remove them.

8. Top X invited to a semi-final - Rejected

- i. This method would see the top X number of competitors from each qualifying heat invited to complete in a semi-final (location unknown) before Crufts, with the placings of that determining who is invited to Crufts.
- ii. Pros
 - a. By condensing the qualification process down to a competition, all competitors who make it to the semi-finals have the same chance, over the same course, in the same conditions to qualify.
 - b. Would allow the qualifiers to let through more participants
 - c. Could allow more qualifiers as the burden of qualifying for Crufts is up to the semi-final, not the qualifying heats
 - (1) One of the largest problems we have for Crufts qualifiers is that Crufts is only 4 days long. Trying to cram every dog discipline with multiple classes, each with 3 age categories is incredibly difficult and heavily restricts the number of qualifiers we are able to offer to clubs.

- iii. Cons:
 - a. Location. If we were to hold a 1-day semi-final it would have to take place in the midlands (we would need to be as equally unfair to Scotland as we would be to Cornwall). This in itself makes it unfair if you live nowhere near the midlands.
 - b. The semi-final would need to be held in November, after all our qualifiers had concluded. Holding an event in November would necessitate that it must be an indoor venue.
- iv. Conclusion:
 - a. This option was heavily considered, but ultimately rejected based on the two cons above. Members from Northern Ireland, Scotland and any of the south coastal regions of England would be disenfranchised by a centralised semi-final.

9. Waterfall Method – Accepted

- i. This method would see all those getting 1st place qualifying for final. Any qualification spaces not filled by the 1st places would be randomly awarded to competitors who achieved a 2nd place at qualifiers. Any qualification spaces not filled by the 2nd Places would be randomly awarded to competitors who achieved 3rd place. Etc
- ii. Pros
 - a. 1st Place Guarantees qualification
 - b. No member can block the qualification of another member
 - c. All competitors who achieved a certain place are on an equal footing
 - (1) E.g. all 2nd place competitors in a subcategory are just as likely to be selected as each other
 - d. Because qualification is only awarded at the end of the year, all qualification spots can be filled
- iii. Cons:
 - a. One of the most complicated qualification methods
 - b. All those who did not come first will need to wait till the qualification year is over to know if they have qualified
 - c. Randomly allocated spaces can feel unfair if you were unsuccessful
- iv. Conclusion:
 - a. The YKC will try out this new method of qualification across all of its qualifiers, whilst it does have some issues, namely the complexity and the late announcement of who has qualified, the YKC believes this method will strike a balance between allowing previously qualified members to continue competing and to allow those not yet qualified to still have a chance of reaching the finals.
